Monday; October 2, 2017

8:00 am till 4:00 pm

This course complies with the guidelines of the following mandate(s): Use of Force
Legal Updates | Civil Rights | Constitutional & Proper Use of LE Authority

Course Description: This eight hour course will allow officers to review and practice their basic building search skills in real-time, live scenario based situations. Course content works as an excellent primer and refresher for officers who have or will be attending Rapid Deployment Training. Officers will work in teams of two and three, to mirror real patrol situations. Scenarios will include lit and unlit buildings, residential, retail and commercial occupancies, and weapon choices (handgun, shotgun, long gun).

Officers will learn to recognize and respond to the presence of IEDs in buildings and on subjects. Course content will include both classroom and scenario activities. Officers will review Department of Homeland Security protocols for local department contact with suspected and known terrorists, as well as scene safety and personnel safety protocols. The scenarios will include IED mockups and hostage situations. The Officers will learn Low Risk Search Techniques for effectively searching buildings, venues, and areas where suspected terrorist threats may exist.

Course Content Includes:

- Review of purposes of building searches
- Review of laws and cases regarding building searches
 - Alarms, exigent circumstances, dispatched, on-site probable cause
- Review techniques for challenging spotted suspected and unknown suspect
- Review of methods for maintaining cleared space when removing suspect
- Gain a basic knowledge of current improvised explosive devices (IEDs)
- Learn the action to take for IEDs and equipment available to assist in their detection
- Gain heightened awareness of the effects of explosives and terrorism
- Learn techniques for building searches for
 - non-involved civilians, active shooters, devices, and hidden threats
- Proper application and use of flashlights
 - Multiple lights, Team techniques

This class is a soft air, weapons training course. Officers need to bring their duty belts. Officers are encouraged to have either sweatshirts or long sleeve shirts available to wear. Face protection and weapons will be issued at the training site.

- Also warm clothing (if needed) is suggested as some training buildings may not be heated and some training will be outside.

The Instructors: The lead instructor is Michael Drumm. All instructors are certified, full-time police officers, and are members of the Illinois Tactical Officers Association and the International Law Enforcement Educators and Trainers Association. Drumm is also a DHS contract instructor.

Tactical Analysis Program

“Tactical Awareness and Threat Recognition”

Frankfort Police Department,
20602 Lincoln Way Lane, Frankfort, IL 60423
Tuesday & Wednesday, October 3 & 4, 2017
8:00 am till 4:00 pm

This course complies with the guidelines of the following mandate(s):
Use of Force | Cultural Competency | Procedural Justice | Civil Rights

Course Description: This course will be conducted by Patrick Van Horne (co-author of the acclaimed book Left of Bang), Co-founder and CEO of The CP Journal out of Boulder, Colorado. The CP Journal provides training and professional consultation to the military, law enforcement, and private security industry in behavioral analysis and threat recognition. The course is based on the principals of the Marine Corps' Combat Hunter Program that was developed during the Iraq and Afghanistan wars.

Training Elements: Developing the ability to observe, classify, assess and communicate nonverbal behavior empowers our nation's protectors to proactively recognize potential threats before an attack occurs. The observation process taught in this course improves both intuitive decision-making and the deliberate analysis of situations, persons, and environments.

The "Tactical Awareness and Threat Recognition" portion of the course provides instruction in the foundational behavioral observations used to make assessments about individual people. The course is focused on ensuring that students can accurately assign people to each of the four mutually exclusive primary clusters of behavior. Once officers have proven that they can make these observations, articulate the reason for objectively assigning a person to each cluster, and understand the "why" behind the assessments, these behaviors are then put into the context of the "officer ambush" to determine the significance of each behavior in relation to the risks that police officers face.

The "Tactical Sense-making" portion of the course expands on the behaviors taught on the first day to include all four pillars of observable behaviors. Officers learn how to establish an all-encompassing baseline for operational areas using a deliberate, systematic and repeatable process.

Topics include:

- Overview of Officer Ambushes and Terrorist Attacks
- The Behavioral Analysis Approach to Threat Recognition
- Variables and Constant Elements of Violent Acts
- Identifying Threat Specific Behaviors
- Assessing and Improving Situational Awareness
- Interpreting Individual Gestures, Postures and Expressions
- Building and Observing Clusters of Cues

- Why Attackers Close the Distance to their Targets
- Learning and Building Behavioral File Folders
- Principals for Assessing Groups of People
- Determining Positive and Negative Atmospherics
- Baseline Templates for Anticipated Situations & Environments
- Recognition Primed Decision-Making (RPD)
- Adapting to Changing Criminal Tactics and Techniques

Instructor:

Patrick Van Horne is Co-founder and CEO of The CP Journal and co-author of the book, "Left of Bang: How the Marine Corps' Combat Hunter Program Can Save Your Life." The CP Journal is a Veteran Owned Small Business (VOSB) that provides training to the military, law enforcement, and private security industry in behavioral analysis and threat recognition.

Patrick served for seven years in the United States Marine Corps, progressing to the rank of Captain. While on active duty, he served as a Platoon Commander and Company Executive Officer with Weapons Company, 1st Battalion, Fourth Marines, as well as serving as a Company Commander with 1st Marine Regiment. Through his two deployments to Iraq, he saw first-hand the importance of strong leadership and effective training for the members of our military as they prepare for deployment.

Following his time as a Company Commander, he became the Officer-in-Charge of a Mobile Training Team at the School of Infantry at Camp Pendleton, providing training to deploying Infantry battalions and regiments in the Combat Hunter Program. It was in this command that he was first exposed to Combat Profiling and human behavioral analysis. During his time in this job, he helped recreate the Combat Profiling instruction, and designed and led the Combat Hunter Trainer Course, a pilot course designed to make Marines into Combat Hunter Instructors.

Patrick led 350 Marines through a yearlong combat training and preparation program prior to their deployment. Designed long-term training plan for cross-functional teams from 9 diverse technical areas. He also led 40 Marines and served as Second-in-Command for 200 Marines through two deployments to Iraq. Coordinated all intelligence, operational, logistics, communication and training requirements across units. While teaching behavioral profiling to Marines he decided to create The CP Journal to provide students with the resources needed to continue learning about all that behavioral analysis had to offer.

Patrick graduated from Fordham University in 2014 with an M.B.A., with a marketing concentration. He graduated from Marist College in 2005 with a B.S. in Business Administration and a Minor in Accounting. He was selected to serve as a team captain on the Division 1 Lacrosse team, winning a conference championship and earning a spot in the 2005 NCAA Tournament in his senior year.

Patrick currently lives in Boulder, Colorado and actively supports the Injured Marine Semper Fi Fund and Team Rubicon.

Advanced Roadside Impaired Driving Enforcement

Frankfort Police Department,
20602 Lincoln-Way Lane, Frankfort, IL 60423
Thursday & Friday; October 5 & 6, 2017
8:00 am till 4:00 pm

This course complies with the guidelines of the following mandate(s):
Civil Rights | Constitutional & Proper Use of LE Authority | Human Rights | Legal Updates

Course Description: The Advanced Roadside Impaired Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) program was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) with input from the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) Technical Advisory Panel (TAP) and the Virginia Association of Chiefs of Police. ARIDE was created to address the gap in training between the Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program.

This course will offer additional information to law enforcement officers on detecting impairment caused by more than just alcohol. Often law enforcement officers that have not received advanced or in-service training regarding drug impairment tend to not be able to identify these characteristics; therefore, they will release an impaired driver. Once an officer completes the training he/she will be more proficient with the 3 battery of tests (HGN, WAT, OLS), as well as a broader knowledge of drug impairment indicators. The law enforcement officer will also be more familiar with the DRE program and its function. This will facilitate better communication and transfer of critical roadside indicators of impairment to the evaluating DRE officer for a more complete and accurate assessment of the impairment.

ARIDE is a 16-hour training course taught by DRE instructors or SFST instructors who are also DREs. The training will be conducted under the control and approval of the DEC Program state coordinator. This course encompasses information and techniques for addressing the drug and alcohol impaired driving problem. The following topics are discussed and/or delivered in detail throughout the entire curriculum:

- Update of Standardized Field Sobriety Testing Battery
- How drug impaired driving affects our community
- SFST Proficiency Examination
- Drugs in the human body and the impairing effects they may have
- Seven categories of drugs identified by the DEC Program
- Additional sobriety tests that will provide an expanded knowledge of detection to law enforcement
- Provide an expanded knowledge of prosecuting drug impaired drivers to prosecutors and courts

Much of the classroom training is devoted to hands-on practice.

Instructor: Tony Lebron (Retired M/Sgt; Illinois State Police) will be the lead instructor.

200 Veterans Parkway, New Lenox, IL 60451

Monday – Friday; October 30 - November 3, 2017

8:00 am to 4:00 pm

This course complies with the guidelines of the following mandate(s):

Civil Rights | Constitutional & Proper Use of LE Authority | Cultural Competency | Human Rights |
Legal Updates | Procedural Justice

Course Description: The Supervision of Police Personnel course prepares first-line supervisors for a successful transition from officer to supervisor, and provides professional development to current supervisors who have had little or no formal training to lead officers. The course provides the fundamentals of leadership and followership to enable students to become more effective in their roles, and provide an educational foundation for life-long learning and professional development.

The one-week course is designed to teach supervisors how to overcome contemporary leadership challenges and focuses on understanding human behavior and day-to-day work relationships with subordinates, superiors and the public. As emerging leaders navigating today's changing law enforcement environment, Supervision of Police Personnel students learn how to effectively motivate, evaluate and discipline employees in order to successfully carry out the visions of their law enforcement agencies.

Who Should Attend:

Supervision of Police Personnel is an absolute must for all new supervisors or soon-to-be-promoted officers. Experienced supervisors are encouraged to attend to improve their leadership and supervisory effectiveness and continue developing in the law enforcement profession.

Course Content:

- The personal profile system: DiSC instrument
- Key elements of dynamic leadership
- Communication
- Supervising Diversity
- Motivational principles
- Performance Management
- Planning and decision making
- The disciplinary process
- Ethics, professionalism and community image
- Risk Management

Instructors: Course instructors are police managers (active or retired) who combine extensive experience with solid academic credentials, provided by NUCPS.

From Minor Violations to Terrorism Recognition (with Air Soft® Training)

Station 3 Training Center, Frankfort Fire Protection District

24420 S. LaGrange Rd. (Rt. 45), Frankfort, IL 60423

Monday, October 30, 2017

8:00 am till 4:00 pm

Course Description: This one day, practical exercise seminar is designed to teach officers the basic concepts of Cover and Contact. Officers will learn the proper techniques for removing suspect(s) from vehicles, safely covering the suspects and contact officer, and securing the location for safe vehicle searches. Officers will work in teams of two and three, to mirror real patrol situations. Scenarios will involve traffic stops and building entry for call response.

Officers will learn to recognize and respond to the presence of IEDs in vehicles, buildings and on subjects. Course content will include both classroom and scenario activities. Officers will review Department of Homeland Security protocols for local department contact with suspected and known terrorists, as well as scene safety and personnel safety protocols. The scenarios will include IED mockups and hostage situations.

Course Content Includes:

- Learn standard hand signals to let responding officers know what type, if any back up or additional response is needed.
- Learn the specific responsibilities of the contact officer.
- Learn the specific responsibilities of the cover officer.
- Review techniques for vehicle stop locations and suspect-officer interaction.
- Learn how to deal with multiple suspects on traffic stops.
- Review techniques of systematic vehicle searches for contraband
- Gain a basic knowledge of current improvised explosive devices (IEDs)
- Learn the action to take for IEDs and equipment available to assist in their detection
- Gain heightened awareness of the effects of explosives and terrorism
- Learn how to contact STIC, JTTF, and DHS for terrorist involved stops

This class is a soft air, weapons training course. Officers need to bring their duty belts and should (not required) have their department vehicles for scenarios. Officers are encouraged to have either sweatshirts or long sleeve shirts available to wear. Face protection and Air Soft® type weapons will be issued at the training site.

The instructors: The lead instructor is Michael Drumm. All instructors are certified, full-time police officers, and are members of the Illinois Tactical Officers Association and the International Law Enforcement Educators and Trainers Association. Drumm is also a DHS contract instructor.
